

Klairi is a well known philologist and an awarded writer and poet. She has served as a Minister of Education and Culture in Cyprus and as a Member of Parliament. Klairi is an honorary member of the International Women's Association and she is also the Honorary President of the Cyprus Language Association and the Lions Club Arsinoe.

Klairi has been awarded with an honorary PhD by the University of Athens and also by the University of Middlesex, London.